DAGGER DANCE TONIGHT.

The Russians are to have their famous dagger dance at the Park Theater this evening and the crowd will be large in consequence. These people have made a great hit in their dances and have opened the eyes of Honolulu as to their capabilities in this respect. The Melotte sisters charmed the audience last week with their coon song and will repeat it tonight. The motion picture, "The Sins of the Fathers," will be given for the first time. There is a moral to this picture that should have a good influence upon the average young man who wants to be tough.

Several robberies were reported to the police yesterday, and two of them occurred at the Occidental hotel on Saturday night. Two rooms were entered at the hotel and a sum of money amounting to $15 was taken; some clothing was also annexed and the thief got clear away.

The next place visited was the Bolton residence on Punchbowl street and a small amount of money was taken from a bed room. The work looks like that of someone who is acquainted with the Wolters family, as in all

KNUCKLE DUSTER USED BY SOLDIER

Late on Saturday night a bad assault is alleged to have been committed by a marine named H. B. Chamberlain on two Portuguese youths who happened to pass the corner of Maunakea and Hotel streets. This portion of the city is very badly lighted, and repeated rows have occurred at the spot. There is a vacant plot of land on one of the corners, and judging from the number of empty bottles that are to be found there, there is a lot of drinking going on.

It appears that a party of soldiers were standing on the corner and whenever anyone would pass the bunch would attack them. The two Portuguese lads, whose names are Joseph and F. G. Silva, were walking along Hotel street, when Chamberlain and another Marine are alleged to have run out and started to beat the boys up.

Deputy Rose and an officer heard the racket and at once ran to the spot and succeeded in arresting Chamberlain. The other man escaped in the darkness, but may be arrested today sometime. On the way to the police station the prisoner was observed to throw something away and a search revealed the fact that a brass knuckle duster was the article discarded. An examination of the Portuguese lads' heads showed that they were both badly cut on the scalp.

Chamberlain has been charged with assault with a weapon, and he will appear in court tomorrow morning.

DARRACH'S LAST.

The art of Marshall Darrach, the distinguished Shakespeare reciter, has received in Honolulu a cordial appreciation that cannot but be gratifying to the artist.

Many-sided as is his art, one feature has as yet escaped public comment—his wonderful power of memory. Since his first appearance here in June, Mr. Darrach has recited without notes and without prompter, "Julius Caesar," "Twelfth Night," "Merchant of Venice," "Tempter," "Hamlet," "Macbeth," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Comedy of Errors," and "Midsummer Night's Dream." Nor is the fact that in the impersonation of the various characters he has never put into the mouth of one person a speech belonging to another—the least wonderful part of his memoric power. In every play the vocal quality assigned to a character at the beginning of the play is preserved until the end; and every time that particular character speaks he speaks in the voice assigned. Thus, there is produced in the minds of the listeners no confusion as to the identity of that particular character, and the whole effect is as though a group of actors had been performing the play instead of a single man.

Mr. Darrach's last public appearance in Honolulu will be tonight in the great Scottish tragedy "Macbeth."

Instances members of the hotel proprietor's family have been robbed.

Chief McDuffie is working on the matter and already has secured a clue that may lead to the arrest of the midnight prowler.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING

The Commissioners of Education met this morning in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction Pope and listened to the reading of reports and suggestions, as presented by Superintendent Pope and School Inspector King.

One of the matters brought to the attention of the commissioners, which was finally laid aside, was the petition for the construction of a school house in Kalihi camp. Some time ago, a meeting was held in Kalihi camp for the purpose of discussing the advisability of erecting a school house there.

Owing to lack of funds, however, the commissioners, voted against the erection of the proposed school in Kalihi. Another petition for the erection of a school house at Manuwa was also declined on the same reason.

An important feature of the meeting was the decision of the commissioners for the appointment of the Territorial people to vacancies when they occur in the schools throughout the Territory. This is welcome news to those who were educated here, and particularly to those who now hold first class certificates.

Two land transactions which were brought to the attention of the commissioners were confirmed today. In his report, Superintendent Pope recommended the land at Kahana, which was used for school purpose, be transferred to the government, as it was no longer needed by the department. He said that there were not enough pupils to attend the school rendering it therefore useless for the department to maintain.

Mr. C. H. Cooke was this morning elected a member of the McKinley Memorial Fund Committee, succeeding his late father, C. M. Cooke. His appointment was made unanimous.

Reports of the Lahaina Seminary, Boys and Girls Industrial Schools were also read and placed on file. At 2 o'clock this afternoon, the commissioners resumed their meeting on educational work.

COAST PETITIONS

ON ATCHERLEY

of medicines is being made by Dr. Atcherley, that you may be personally satisfied of the good it is doing us. We have formerly applied to Dr. LeMend in the same way that we are applying to you, but as yet we have received no reply.

"We further humbly petition your Excellency and your honorable Board that Dr. Atcherley be requested to come and live with us for six months. We know he will accept the request for our sakes and that of the world at large. There are thousands of others in various parts of the world suffering from this disease and when we have been cured they will want the same treatment."

The Federal Government has long been interested in amical treatment from those suffering from leprosy, and has recently ordered 500 rabbits and 800 monkeys from a Market-street dealer, which are to be inoculated and sent to Molokai for experimental observation.

DEMOCRATS MEET AT WAIKANE

Achi Says Politics On Hawaii Is Much Mixed

Twenty Home Rulers who were present at the meeting of the Democratic leaders held last Saturday night at Waikane joined the Democratic party. They were so convinced and enthused over the able speech of H. M. Kaniho, the "Cannon Ball of Kohala," that they signed the enrollment list at the conclusion of the meeting, which, it is said, was one of the largest that ever assembled there.

Kaniho, who recently came to the support of McCandless, as a candidate for Delegate to Congress, went down there at the special request of the Home Rulers of Waikane. They wanted to hear from the Kohala orator, as to his political standing. They stated in their letter which was received by him that if he (Kaniho) would only go down there and tell them the reasons why he changed his mind recently in support of McCandless, they would also join the Democratic army.

The meeting was largely attended by the voters of different political parties. Availing himself of this chance to make votes, according to the promises of the people there, he went down. His catchy ways of explaining to the voters carried so well that at the end of the meeting the Home Rulers came forward and signed the Democratic enrollment list. McCandless and other leaders of the party expressed much pleasure at the additions to their party.

Luau Was the Finest.

Mayor Fern, who accompanied the other Democrats to Waikane last Saturday afternoon, stated this morning that the meeting was a great success. He praised the good work of Kaniho and other speakers in winning for the party twenty more supporters, who are convinced that it is to their advantage to become Democrats.

Republicans Marching On.

The Republican party leaders are very hopeful for the future. They are enthusiastic over the reports which are coming in daily. Campaign Manager Lorrin Andrews is sending out Hawaiian circulars to the voters, explaining to them the real standing of the Republican party. The circulars are signed by himself and Ella Crawford.

Pahia, New Sheriff.

Frank Pahia, deputy sheriff of Koolau, is the latest candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket. He is well known, having once held the office of deputy marshal of the kingdom during the monarchy. This gives the party three prospective candidates for sheriff—Andrew Cox, Captain Robert Wapa Parker and Frank Pahia.

"It seems to me that Senator Makekai is the most popular man politically on the island of Hawaii today," said W. C. Achi, leader of the Labor party, who returned from Hilo last Saturday on the Mauna Kea.

Achi is highly elated over the fact that he was a winner in a legal contest, which was fought out before the Circuit Court in Hilo. He went there originally to appear on behalf of Senator Makekai in an election suit. The defendant was represented by W. T. Rawlins, United States Assistant District Attorney.

Beside the legal business which took him to Hilo, Achi sized up the political situation on the big island. He found from investigation, plus the information furnished him by the voters, that Makekai will probably be elected again at the coming election. He is also positive from observation that the voters on Hawaii, particularly those in Hilo, would not necessarily vote for party men, as has been the custom in the past. They would rather vote for men who are best fitted for the positions they are seeking.

That they intend to give their support for such best men, is evidenced by the statements made to him by well known Republicans and Democrats. Achi, who is always interested in matters political was at his office Saturday reading up on the political situation. He was surrounded by his friends, including Charles Clark, F. K. Archer and other political workers.

In the course of interview, Achi said:

"It seems to me that Makekai is the most popular man on Hawaii today, I mean politically. I am quite certain that he will be elected Senator again at the next election."

"He is a clever man. He has a catchy way of talking to the people. He knows what is proper to say at a political meeting in order to catch votes. One of the strongest features of his prospective election as a Senator in November is the fact that he has done many favors for office holders in Hawaii."

"It was largely due to his efforts that the salaries of the clerks of the Circuit Court were raised. This also applies to the other boys, who, it is confidentially said, are simply waiting for a time when they will show their appreciation to Makekai for his good work in the Senate."

"These boys are said to be Repub-

RECREATIONS

NOVELTY THEATER.

An entire change of program at the Novelty Theater tonight. The Earle Sisters will put on the burnt cork and give some real live coon songs. Their black face work was one of the hits of their eastern engagement and tonight they will sing the following Ethiopian ditties: "Kinky," "Sugar Cane," "Any Old Place in Yankee Land is Good Enough For Me," and "Make a Noise like a Hoop and Roll Away." In addition to these clever song and dance artists, the Russian musical sextet will sing some of their national airs and play upon their quaint instruments. These artists are not amateurs, some of them are from the music halls of Harbin. The new films are all good ones.

"THE THREE OF US" TONIGHT.
"The Three of Us," that sterling play which will receive its first Honolulu presentation by the Henry McRae Company this evening, promises to be one of the greatest successes which that excellent organization has scored since it opened its engagement in this city. "The Three of Us" is a play of compelling interest and it never fails to hold the audience from the rise of the curtain until the end of the last act.

The play has been staged with the thought to detail which has characterized all of the productions of the McRae Company and the settings are of surpassing beauty. The favorites in the company are cast in congenial roles and there is every indication that "The Three of Us" will play to the largest business which has greeted the McRae Company in Honolulu as yet. Miss Oswald will be seen at her best in Rye. McChesney, George Webb the new leading man, will make his initial appearance.

Lies and Democrats; but will stay by Makekai when he is up for election regardless of party affiliation.

"Some of the well known haole Republicans, it was reported to me, have likewise expressed their willingness to vote for Makekai, whom they think is one of the ablest men in Senate."

"As to the party lines," continued Achi, "I am afraid there is nothing in it. The people are awakened to the fact that best candidates irrespective of their party connections, should be given their votes."

"Everything up there in Hilo is all mixed-up," renewed Achi. "The same mixed-up affairs, which I found up there are also prevailing here in Honolulu. There are so many different factions, working for their individual interests, that the voters are beginning to stand by and watch the actions of these party leaders."

"Some thing has got to be done towards adjusting these differences before a voter can intelligently cast his vote. Personally I am not anxious to take part in politics. I would rather be left alone so that I can devote my time to law practice."

Asked whether he had anything to say of Honolulu politics, Achi shook his head and said "nothing doing."

As soon as Achi arrived at his office Saturday, his adherents came in to learn the conditions, or to inform him of the political situation here in Honolulu. He was apparently pleased to know what had taken place since he left here two weeks ago.

Before concluding, Achi said that A. Fernandez, the supervisor who has been mentioned as a probable candidate for Senator on the Republican ticket, was seriously thinking of withdrawing his name for the position. He is said after feeling the political pulse of voters on Hawaii, found that he would not be able to beat Makekai, in case he allowed his name to be used.

Holstein Working.

According to reports from Hawaii, Speaker H. L. Holstein, the recently appointed National Committeeman, has already begun his stumping on the big island. The latest report from Kohala, the home of Speaker Holstein is that Henry Beckley, son of Admiral Beckley, will be a Republican candidate for supervisor from that district. His name has met with a great deal of favor from the Home Rulers there. Beckley is in the automobile business and his election means that roads on Hawaii will be greatly improved.

As soon as the new handbills arrive from the Coast the Marine-Y. M. C. A. tournament will be continued and the students are expected to play a much better game than they did in the first half.
